DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 5-7, 9, 10, 12, 17 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

The specification, as originally filed, does not disclose how the controller increases the value as claimed in claim 5 when the acoustic environment detector determines that the input signals are omni-directional and wherein the controller decreases the value when the acoustic environment detector determines that the input signals directional.

The specification, as originally filed, does not disclose how the trigger generating an alert signal for indicating a fast adaptation mode with the threshold values as now claimed in claims 6, 7 and 9.

The specification, as originally filed, does not disclose how the acoustic environment detector has a manual override such that it may be set to determine directional or omni-directional input signals regardless of actual microphone input as now claimed in claim 10.

The specification, as originally filed, does not disclose the anti feedback system including an adaptive filter and a parameterized model as now claimed in claim 12,

The specification, as originally filed, does not disclose how the fast adaptation triggered by howl detection is maintained for a predefined period after the howl vanishes and the predefined period being based on hysteresis as now claimed in claim 17.

The specification, as originally filed, does not disclose how the fast adaptation triggered by the alert signal is maintained for a predefined period after the alert signal is no longer being generated by the trigger, and the predefined period being based on hysteresis as now claimed in claim 18.

3. Claim 12 recites the limitation "the model parameters" in line 2. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 4, 8, 11, 13-16 and 19-20 have been allowed.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 5-7, 9, 10, 12 and 17-18 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
